

1. Barring the discovery of new letters, hidden diaries, or the like, fresh information about eminent people is hard to find because their lives have been so intensely diaries 日记 intensely 强烈的

eminent 杰出的

- D? ←
A. ridiculed ←
B. scrutinized ← 仔细
C. admired ←
D. embellished ← 美化
E. Underrated ←

∴ hard to find

∴ hard to find

? 没有一个可以直接出的意思

D和E都可? 推出 ∴ 低看 or 高看
C, A

但没选 E, A, C ∴ E有伪价 ∴ 也仔细修过

A 不直接, 更绕

C, 也绕

视角是作者的, ∴ 选 D也 ∴ 作者用了 eminent

保证人?

2. Many of the towns that have voted to keep incinerators in the country's solid waste plan have done so not because the necessarily (i) B incinerators, but because they are (ii) E to narrow their waste-disposal options. ←

Blank (i) Blank (ii) ←

- A. question B willing ←
B. favor E eager ←
C. oppose F loath ← 不乐意

空与空联动
找同义词

incinerators; 焚化炉

∴ 是 keep

∴ C F X

BE比 BD更直接

3. To call Kermode the finest English critic of his generation would be a AD 选A ∴ since - A compliment, since not many of its population are professionally engaged in literary criticism. (6选2) ← - A

- A. sincere ←
B. backhanded ← 假好假恶, 挖苦
C. paltry ← 微小
D. heartfelt ← 真诚的
E. meager ← 不足
F. plausible ← 似乎真实的

4. It would be naïve to treat remarks made in diaries or personal letters as giving especially candid access to historical truth or even as being expressions of the writer's true state of mind, since the (i) A for exaggeration and deception in those forms is virtually nonexistent. Diaries and letters are rarely sites for (ii) D. ←

- A. motivation D. premeditated manipulation ←
B. penalty E. childish theatrics ← 舞台效果
C. tendency F. balanced reflection ←

exaggeration 夸大 deception 骗局
premeditated 有预谋的

AD对 B无 C和F可对但绕